Dear valued readers,

I trust everyone had an enjoyable weekend. It definitely was a weekend for lounging around the house watching Dvd's and filling up on hot soup.

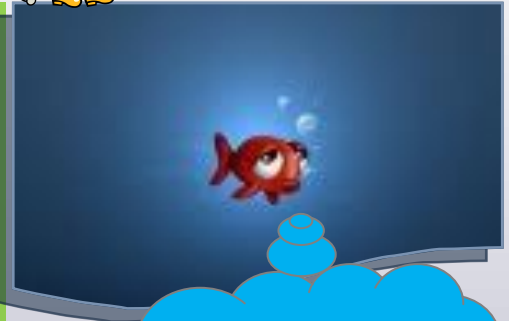

Around our office, there has been a bit of excitement with the birth of a bouncing baby boy from our beautiful payroll clerk Belinda. Mum and baby are doing well, and we are enjoying heaps of cuddles.

We have also enjoyed the company of some of our lovely field staff, whom once again have eagerly attended our Manual handling training. We are receiving some fantastic reviews on our staff in the field, and welcome any additional feedback from those who work alongside them.

I would also like to say thank you to the organisations I have met this week. I have enjoyed meeting everyone, and have appreciated the time taken to welcome me into the office. I look forward to visiting again and getting to know everyone.

Yours sincerely,
 Nicole
